

Healing Earth And Rising Opportunities in middle of Chaos

Pandemic, the word we used to know as just “A disease prevalent over the whole world”, but now.... Now we all know it deep enough what a real pandemic means, living THROUGH a pandemic, what that means. Ideally, thinking of disease we always thought of getting medicine, though we barely ever cared about the fact how much effort it takes for medical researchers to find a cure to a disease.

Moreover, not everything is disastrous in such a situation, we all are watching Economic to Drop drastically, everywhere the standard media channels show is a failure, only FAILURE. But the most important fact is often missed, how many are handling such huge calamity, in the most sanguine way. Let's have a look at this.

- Crisis pops bubbles - in a good way

“Moments of crisis show us that the ways we've been doing things actually hinder our existence,”

“They hinder our success in life, and they challenge human well-being in problematic ways.”

Being under quarantine, lockdown, we all got a chance to slow down a little, evolve, adapt, and the most difficult to do earlier - Introspect. Many got clarity and goal in life, facing this pandemic. The Word PANDEMIC is now a complete package for all who witnessed it-

- It is inspiring to see how people tackle troubles in lockdown.
- It is saddening to see how poor and needy suffer.
- It is shaking to see the people striving.
- It is Miraculous to see mother earth replenishing.

All the bad doings that become a compulsory habit to merely survive, is now become a conscious choice for sustainable growth of every being. Today, we're forced to deeply consider everything. Nothing is taken for granted. That means we can finally find the will to create great change. "A crisis like this can shift the options that we are willing to collectively take seriously."

News popping all around like-

- Pandemic side-effects offer a glimpse of alternative future on Earth
- Coronavirus Lockdowns Have Changed the Way Earth Moves...
- Is nature 'reclaiming' the earth in this time of COVID-19?
- Ozone on track to heal completely in our lifetime,

Every Coin has 2 sides, it depends on which side you are looking at because, in reality, none is greater, nor lesser than the other.

● Crisis creates new needs — which you can solve!

Remember a few months ago, when most companies opposed remote working? That meant there was a limited marketplace for tools to support remote workers, which is why there were so few options like Zoom. But as things changes, new options - GMeet, Cisco Webex, and many more. (be honest, we never went further into this beyond Skype right? :P)

But now the tables have turned, for good.

The chain reactions here are fascinating. A virus keeps us at home, which puts a strain on our broadband internet, which means a new solution comes along, and that new solution enables new technologies we can't even envision today, and those new technologies give rise to entirely new industries, and on and on we go.

- Crisis changes the rules — for the better!

Before COVID-19, you couldn't talk to your doctor over Zoom or FaceTime. Now you can. Why? Because the law was changed.

We are in that point, where we are technology users, but humans at the core, as we are eager to meet in person with people rather than a WhatsApp chat or like that, the mind shift pandemic created and the humanity and life form regeneration it did in an indirect manner is really a NEVER THOUGHT TO BE POSSIBLE EVENT.

It is now up to us, in the end, how we accept and choose our actions, in such a multi-paradigm situation, Which side you Choose your role to be?
THE CHOICE IS YOURS!
